The Many Dialects of China

By Kiril Bolotnikov.

The vast majority of people, if asked what language is spoken in China, would say: That's a no-brainer: Chinese, of course! Some might know enough to differentiate between Mandarin Chinese and Cantonese. But the truth is far more complex than that.

Mandarin Chinese alone is the most widely spoken native language in the world: nearly a billion within China alone and 1.2 billion worldwide—a few hundred million people more than

CELIN Connection

We hope that the school year is going well and that you and your students are enjoying many rich and exciting experiences learning and using Chinese!

Program Profiles

This month we are pleased to feature a Program Profile about the Mandarin Immersion Programs in Seattle, Washington, which serve students in grades K–7 and are expanding to higher grades. Started in 1995 by General John Stanford, then superintendent of Seattle Public Schools, the programs started with Spanish immersion and expanded to Japanese and then to Mandarin. The programs receive funding from many sources and offer rich opportunities for Seattle students to learn and use Chinese in the United States and Chinese-speaking countries. You can also read about other program profiles here.

The staff of the Mandarin Immersion Programs in Seattle are pleased to share the following curriculum resources:

- Guidelines and Models for Dual Language Immersion Programs
- Dual Language Curriculum at Mercer International Middle School

Many additional resources are available in our collection of curricula and curriculum resources available from national organizations, states, districts, and schools. We believe that you will find this resource to be helpful. We would love to know about, and make available to others, curricula that you use in your Chinese language learning context. Please send your information to us at celin@asiasociety.org. Thank you!

Don't forget to visit the CELIN Program Directory to document your Chinese early language and immersion program or to search for other programs in your area or across the United States.

Happy Mid-Autumn Festival!
