Asia Society's Collectors Dinner will honor distinguished art historian and curator Dr. Pratapaditya Pal. The author of more than sixty publications and the curator of numerous major exhibitions, Dr. Pal has conducted pioneering research on the arts of Tibet, Nepal, and India.

At this intimate dinner held at Asia Society, Dr. Pal will share his thoughts about his long association with Asia Society and the groundbreaking exhibitions he organized here.

Dr. Pratapaditya Pal

Dr. Pratapaditya Pal is an art historian of South and South East Asian and Himalayan Art. Dr. Pal has done pioneering research on the arts of Tibet, Nepal, and India; been the curator of numerous major exhibitions; and authored more than sixty publications. He received a doctorate in fine arts and history from the University of Calcutta and a second PhD from the University of Cambridge. He has served as a curator at The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and the Los Angeles County Museum of Art; research fellow at the Norton Simon Museum, Pasadena; and visiting curator at the Art Institute of Chicago. He has taught at several universities including Harvard; University of Southern California; University of California, Santa Barbara; and University of California, Irvine. He was also the general editor of Marg Publishing for seventeen years.
