

ZHANG Zhao
CEO
LeVision Pictures

Mr. Zhang Zhao received his Bachelor degree in Information Science and Master of Arts degree in Philosophy from Fudan University, Shanghai. During the 90s he studied in U.S. where he obtained MFA in Film Production and Directing. A few films he produced and directed have won many international awards and were recognized by the U.S. independent film committee.

Mr. Zhang found Enlight Pictures in 2006, which now has become one of the top 5 film studios in China. Enlight Pictures has financed and distributed nearly 30 commercial films since its establishment, in which includes Confession of Pain, Legend of the Fist: The return of Chen Zhen, etc. All these films gained a high box-office return and helped Enlight Pictures build up its name within the Chinese film industry and the company's market share has been keeping growing 100% every year. In the year of 2008, Mr. Zhang was named one of the top 10 most influential people in China Film and Entertainment Industry.

Early 2011, Mr. Zhang was invited to join Le Vision Pictures, as its CEO. In his new journey of film business career at LEVP, the Bullet Vanishes and the co-producing film Expendable II would be his new masterpieces as film producer, which has gained him a lot of respect from China film society.
