2011 Public Service Award

Leadership for a Shared Future

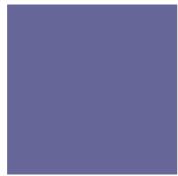

We invite you to nominate an organization that deserves to be considered for the Asia Society's Asia 21 Young Leaders Initiative 2011 Public Service Award (PSA). The winning organization receives US$10,000 along with the ongoing support of the Asia 21 Class of 2011 Fellows.

Overview

Asia 21 Young Leaders Initiative

The Initiative. The Asia Society's "Asia 21 Young Leaders Initiative" brings together dynamic young leaders from across the Asia-Pacific region. The Asia 21 Class of 2011 Fellows, a core group of young leaders selected by the Asia Society, are pleased to announce the launch of the Asia 21 Young Leaders Initiative 2011 Public Service Award (PSA). The award recognizes an organization that serves underprivileged social and economic groups, communities and the public in the Asia-Pacific region.

The Goals. The PSA aims to:

- Recognize the achievement of a small to medium-sized organization engaged in public service in the Asia-Pacific region.
- Provide an award to recognize the work of the organization.
- Provide ongoing support for the organization through the assistance of the Asia 21 Class of 2011 Fellows.
- Replicate successful activities of the organization in other countries.

"The Asia 21 Public Service Award represents substantial support for our ongoing programs while also offering us access to the Fellows' intangible services." HOME, Singapore, Winner of the 2010 PSA

The Award. The PSA consists of a US$10,000 cash prize. In addition, the Award winner will be given access to the Asia 21 Class of 2011 Fellows' network for successful program development and transfer of best practices. This in-kind aid aims to position the award-winning organization with the tools to expand to a higher level of service and to other regions around Asia.

PSA Selection Committee. The PSA Selection Committee consists of the Asia 21 Class of 2011 Fellows, with technical support from Asia Society and partner organizations.

Past Winners. The previous winners of the Asia 21 PSA have furthered their success and have remained in contact with Asia 21 Fellows. These are:

2010: Humanitarian Organisation for Migration Economics (HOME), Singapore

2009: Prisoner Assistance Nepal, Nepal

2008: Mashhad Positive Club, Iran

2007: Odanadi seva Samsthe, India

Past Asia 21 PSA Winners

Humanitarian Organisation for Migration Economics

HOME responds to the very specific and special needs of a growing number of migrant workers in Singapore, now numbering approximately 900,000.

Apart from providing temporary shelter, food, and medical services to those who face work-related problems including abuse from their employers, HOME has also extended help desk services, legal aid and financial assistance to its beneficiaries, as well as vocational skills training in such areas as English language proficiency and IT.

"Improving their employability is one way to break the poverty cycle," HOME President, Bridget Tan, stated. "Our training courses aim to be a part of that process and this Asia 21 grant represents substantial support for our ongoing programs while also offering us access to the Fellows' intangible services."

Prisoners Assistance Nepal

Founded in 2000, PA Nepal provides a home for children who would otherwise be in jail with a convicted parent, and further allows them the opportunity to attend school. It continues to rescue children from prisons around the country and currently supports more than 300 youth across Nepal, ranging in age from 18 months to 18 years.

Ranamager overcame extreme poverty and gender discrimination, a schoolteacher, provided literacy classes for women, and worked in country jails. Her work was inspired by her meeting with renowned Nepali writer and human rights activist Bishnu Kumari Waiba ("Parizat"). "It was then that I saw the work that needed to be done," Ranamagar says. "It has meant that I have been able to work with the most vulnerable and the most desperate and I have been able to give them hope and assistance."

Mashhad Positive Club

This Iranian-based organization works with people living with HIV/AIDS in Iran. Its activities include Positive Prevention, Psychosocial Support to PLHIV, Peer Education and Counseling services. Mashhad Positive Club was also one of the recipients of UNAIDS's Red Ribbon Award in 2008.

In line with its long-term strategies, MPC has established a new Harm Reduction Center, which uses an innovative Management Information System based on RFID (Radio Frequency Identification Data) recording. Harm Reduction refers to policies, programmes and practices that aim to reduce the harms associated with the use of psychoactive drugs in people unable or unwilling to stop. The defining features are the focus on the prevention of harm, rather than of drug use itself, and the focus on people who continue to use drugs.

Beneficiaries are identified by unique RFID cards and all services delivered to them are recorded by operator. Reports can be obtained daily, weekly, monthly or any other specified duration.
