

Animals and Me

In his sculpture Our Children, artist Tang Da Wu reduces an image of a mother goat and her kid to a series of lines and planes.

Try your hand at changing these photographs of parent animals and their babies into drawings that use only lines to suggest a relationship.

Now have two friends or family members strike a pose. In the space below, see if you can describe their relationship using only lines.

