

Music Playground

What? D2 Place joins forces with digital music platform MOOV and indie busker collective JLMusic to present a plethora of concerts, art performances and instrument workshops. Local singers, street dancers, visual artists and more share their experiences in an intimate venue that'll leave you wanting an encore.

Where? D2 Place, 9 Cheung Yee Street, Lai Chi Kok

When? Until November 27; 2pm-7pm

(d2place.com)

Picturing Asia: Double Take

What? Making its Hong Kong debut is this exhibition of two world-famous documentary photographers: New Zealand's Brian Brake (Monsoon Girl) and the US's Steve McCurry famed for his (Afghan Girl, right). The two photojournalists have shot countless iconic faces and moments around Asia, capturing their subjects on film in China, Japan, India and beyond. At the show, 90 iconic works reveal different facets of the subjects' lives in the region.

Where? Asia Society Hong Kong Center, 9 Justice Drive, Admiralty

When? September 10-January 7, 2017; various times
(asiasociety.org/hong-kong)

Ubiquitous Trash: Hong Kong Edition

What? For those who missed the exhibitions the first time around at Connecting Space Hong Kong and Puerta Roja, you're in luck - an encore show has been arranged. By translating Hong Kong's trash into photography, drawings and objects, Mexican art-research collective Tres explores the connection between waste and public space.

Where? Octavio Paz Gallery, Consulate General of Mexico, 2502 Caroline Centre, 28 Yun Ping Road, Causeway Bay

When? September 12-October 28 (except Sat/Sun); 12pm-7pm

(puerta-roja.com)

The Tiger Lillies Perform Hamlet

What? Hamlet has been an enduring stage classic with countless reimagination - but you've never seen it like this. Three-piece British cult band The Tiger Lillies team up with Denmark's Theatre Republique, transforming the Shakespeare masterpiece into a two-hour audio-visual banquet featuring 21 newly composed songs.

Where? Kwai Tsing Theatre, 12 Hing Ning Road, Kwai Chung

When? September 9-11; various times
(urbtix.hk)

