2011 Fellows Readings

Session I: Leadership and Values

Session II: Technology, Community, and Revolution – Leadership at a Time of Disruptive Change

_In the context of recent events in Tunisia, Egypt and Iran, this discussion will look at the role of social media and how it fuelled and sustained the unrest and revolutions. How do virtual social networks change the nature of communication and community development? What are the implications of this change? What is the role of leaders in this new form of revolution?_

Session V: Cambodia, the Khmer Rouge, and the Cambodian Genocide

1. Banyan. “Loose Stalks Posing as a Sheaf: As two of its members square up, ASEAN tries to do more than just hold the coats.” The Economist. February 10, 2011.

Conversation: Stabilizing the Afghanistan and Pakistan Region

What are the factors contributing to the unrest in the Af-Pak region? What can be done to turn things around? What are the options for recovery and reconstruction?
