MISSION To prepare Australians for deeper and sustainable engagement with a more complex Asia

Asia Society Australia is Australia's leading global think-tank and membership organisation dedicated to Asia, focusing on the interplay between business and policy

We connect business, policy and society, helping Australians understand and engage with Asia, and to navigate our shared futures. We are a national, independent, non-partisan, and non-political institution. Our programs and analysis are accessible across Australia and globally through digital and face-to-face platforms. Asia Society Australia is a centre of Asia Society – a preeminent global non-profit organisation dedicated to Asia, founded in 1956 by John D. Rockefeller 3rd in New York, with 14 centres in Asia, the United States, Australia and Europe.

GOALS

Be the leading voice in Australia about Asia's business, politics and society, and to be a leading voice about Australia in Asia

Be a truly national institution and a digital-first organisation

Be a leading contributor to solving Australia's national policy challenges in Asia

Be a champion and a convenor of informed debate and dialogue

OUR FOCUS

We focus on the major challenges and opportunities that are facing Australia and Asia.
