APPLICATION PROCESS

How do I apply?

Interested students must fully complete and submit an online application, which includes a short essay. Letters of recommendation, additional writing samples, or admission interviews are not required for application or acceptance to the Institute.

When is the deadline for application?

The deadline has been extended through midnight on Monday, April 18, 2022. Spots are limited, so students are encouraged to apply early to increase their chances of admission.

Can I apply to more than one session?

Yes. Students may apply to one, two, or all three sessions of the Young Leaders Institute simply by checking the sessions they are interested in on the application form.

What if the session I am interested in is already full?

Each session has limited capacity. Due to rolling applications, a session may reach capacity before the April 18 deadline. Students may request to be placed on the waitlist.

Can I submit my application after the posted deadline?

If the Institute is full at the April 18 deadline, applications will be closed and no further applications will be accepted. In the event that spots remain open in the Institute, the application deadline will be extended with a new deadline to be determined and publicly updated on the Asia Society Texas website.

How do I check the status of my application? When will I hear if I have been accepted?

Following the submission of the online application form, students will be contacted individually only if additional information is required. Acceptances will be sent out on a rolling basis. If students have specific questions regarding their application, they may email TTYLI@asiasociety.org.

What if I cannot attend a YLI session after being accepted?

Please inform us as soon as possible if you can no longer attend a YLI session that you have been accepted into, by emailing TTYLI@asiasociety.org. Participation fees, once paid, are nonrefundable.
