SUMMARY:

Founded in 1956, Asia Society’s purpose is to navigate shared futures for Asia and the world across policy, arts and culture, education, sustainability, business, and technology. We provide a platform for dialogue and encourage a diversity of views as we try to find the most effective ways forward. Headquartered in New York City, the organization has 12 other Centers around the world, a global staff of 235, and an annual global operating budget in excess of $44m.

This individual, as a key member of Asia Society’s senior leadership team, is responsible for elevating Asia Society into a premier digital forward organization by leveraging its unique global programmatic and intellectual assets for maximum reach and impact.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Design an integrated and industry-leading digital communications and audience outreach and engagement strategy to advance Asia Society’s global mission, broaden an engaged global audience, and leverage its expert voices, content, events and programming (spanning the areas of policy, arts and culture, and education).

- Build a team and structure to execute the digital strategy, including defining roles and responsibilities, recruitment and/or training, integrating into organization-wide SOP practices digital automation, data collection, video and online production, AI analytics and marketing tools and such as Salesforce Marketing Cloud and Einstein AI.
Facilitate effective inter-department and cross-Center collaboration integrating and digitally repurposing curated global content, marketing and outreach to targeted audiences on a variety of digital platforms and, furthering membership and network engagement.

Drive the development of a compelling, effective, data-driven, and cross-culturally sensitive multi-channel digital presence resulting in vibrant and responsive digital communications that support key Asia Society program objectives and initiatives. Develop and implement plans for targeted constituent messaging in all digital channels and appropriate platforms.

Design and execute a forward-facing global media relations strategy to integrate the digital with traditional media platforms, performance, and penetration. This includes enhancing the Asia Society’s traditional media profile by building relationships that will help bolster earned media through press appearances, mentions, and op-ed placements in order to position the organization as a wellspring for expert insights, commentary, and reaction.

Define impact and success metrics and needed measurement tools and processes to ensure that media and outreach goals are measured consistently with a view on ROI, and digital outreach analytics are used for data-driven course correction and decision-making. Create feedback opportunities with audiences and content consumers to have tight learning loops and rapid course correction.

Working closely with senior leadership and the development team, help attract additional funding to expand capacity and impact.

Act as a player-coach to lead a team encompassing multimedia production and storytelling, social media management, web development, media relations, virtual events, marketing, audience engagement, membership building, data collection and analytics, and branding.

Serve as a key member of the senior management team, advising the President and COO of both media opportunities and digital tools, platforms, and
